Want Lots of Good Reviews?

- You can skip trying to get feedback from family. They aren't your "customers"
- You can start with content you've delivered "live" that worked.
- You can use sites like AuthorsXP to find "beta readers" who actually buy the content you sell to give you feedback.
- Use a Bookfunnel link on your website to give your books/audiobooks away, and ask people who get the book to send comments.
- Giving away your work to beta readers and folks who actually buy the content you sell before you go live on "sales sites" guarantees great reviews because your work is actually good.

Chapter One

The distant sound of the sea has become waves of gut-wrenching pain. My head feels like a shattered melon, and if I have any thought at all, it's a wordless desire to die. At some point, there's pounding, then shouting, and then a scream. I doggedly ignore everything until I hear the shotgun blast. I figure that's bad.

So, I screw open my eyes.

I am lying on a marble floor with my head at the base of a toilet. Through a bathroom door, I see a hall. White walls, white carpet, bright white lights.

Aria appears at the top of the steps at the far end of the hallway.

Her long dark hair swings in lank locks. Blood coats the front of her white beaded dress. It pours in rivers down her long bare legs. She clutches at the walls as she lurches toward me. Her ruby handprints look like footprints in vertical snow.

She reaches the bathroom, frantically slams the door shut behind her, and drops to press her back against it. Her hips slip and slide on the thousands of tiny beads
